LOCAL BUZZINGS.

News Notes—Personal Paragraphs and Other Doings at Home Worthy of Special Mention.

Buy your bag from W. C. McLeod. This is a legal holiday—Thanksgiving.

A new lot of hardware at W. C. McLeod's.

The postmaster for Earlington will be a postmistress—sure.

Jim Hankins bagged five fine large possums one night last week.

Corn is very scarce in this market; the price good, and demand increasing.

Only a few days more may we say and festive swine run at large. On and after December first, all hogs must be kept penned up.

Central City enjoyed the luxury of another shooting escape last Friday. Tom Perkins and Reuben Main were the participants. Both were arrested.

The Christian county Democrats rallied to a finish at Hopkinsville last Friday night. Hons. Geo. S. Rhea, James A. McKenzie and Ward Headley made speeches.

The Christian County Hunting Club are again off on their annual hunting tour to the cane brakes of Arkansas. They will be absent, this time, about three weeks.

The Southern Hotel at Hopkinsville was burned on Thursday night last. Adjoining property was considerably damaged. The loss is estimated at $15,000, only partially insured.

Hon. Clifton J. Pratt, Circuit Judge, elect, is one of the ablest lawyers in the district. He is also a splendid man, despite his determination to "live and die a Republican."—Grand Rivers Herald.

Miss Mollie Whitford, who has taken up her residence in Texas, writes that she is well pleased with the prospects in that far away country. She reports pleasant people and comfortable surroundings, and feels well satisfied with her change.

Between the hours of 11 and 12 o'clock, today, Thanksgiving day, a prayer meeting will be held in Christian church. The citizens of Earlington are earnestly invited to join in this service. The prayer meeting is under care of the Christian Endeavor Society.

Three negroes, all section hands, fell out over a game of "craps" they were engaged in at Dawson, on Friday last. Two of the number were shot by the third, who succeeded in making his escape to the woods. The names of the parties could not be obtained, and it is probable no effort will be made to capture the fugitive murderer.

At White Plains in this county, last Friday night, the most disastrous fire that ever visited that quiet little city, consumed almost the entire portion of the town south of the railroad. The heaviest loser was D. W. Gallo-way, who lost his dwelling, store, and a few other buildings. A large tobacco factory, unoccupied, was burned. The railroad depot was also destroyed. The fire is said to have been caused by a too careless use of fireworks the night in question.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

If you have any visitors send us their names for mention in this column. We will appreciate the favor.

W. J. Dulin spent Sunday in Hopkinsville.

Virgil Terry is in White Plains visiting friends.

R. J. Salmon, of Haley, was in town on Tuesday.

Dr. J. L. Dulin attended the Democratic rally at Hopkinsville last Friday night.

Mrs. L. W. Rice has returned home from a visit to friends at White Plains.

Mrs. C. H. Browning, of Nashville, spent Sunday with relatives in this city.

Miss Myrtle McCarley will be home today to partake of Thanksgiving festivities.

W. C. McLeod and H. C. Bourland called on Madisonville friends last Sunday evening.

J. B. Atkinson, Misses Atkinson and Dacon, returned from New Orleans last night.

V. M. Slaton and H. B. Hill, of Madisonville, passed through here on Monday en route South.

Col. Anderson, night yard master for the L. & N. at Henderson, paid this city a short visit last Tuesday.

Resolutions of Condolence.

MADISONVILLE, Ky., Nov. 23, 1892.

At a meeting of Dave Good Post, No. 37, G. A. R. the following resolutions were adopted.

Resolved, That in the death of Comrade Timothy Graham, Dave Good has lost a valued member and the community a most excellent citizen.

Resolved, That the highest esteem in which "Uncle Harvey" was held by all who knew him was but the outgrowth of the high moral character he bore, and the fruits of the pure Christian life he lived, the evidence of which was manifested in his daily work.

Resolved, That his patriotic and Christian life and the broad and liberal spirit he had for those who differed with him in his political and religious belief is worthy of imitation by all our young men.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be tendered the family of the deceased, and that the county papers be requested to publish the same.

(No. D. Martin, Sec. AS. C. Bacon, S. H. Hanner) Com.

DO YOU KNOW

That B. F. Vannoy's, Madisonville, Ky., is headquarters for furniture?

Carpets too, can be had there at exceedingly low prices.

For Cleveland's Cabinet.

President-elect Cleveland on selecting material for his cabinet, it is hoped, will not overlook this list of Earlington's brave Sampson's of Democracy who stood by him in the recent struggle.

Secretary of State, Wm. McCarley.

Secretary of Treasury, T. D. Walker.

Secretary of War, A. J. Stokes.

Secretary of Navy, Patrick Whalen, Sr.

Secretary of Agriculture, J. Albert Clark.

Attorney General, Jas. R. Rash.

Postmaster-General, Jno. M. Victory.

Secretary of Interior, Dr. P. B. Davis.

Furthermore, if our sister city, Madisonville, should be called upon to fill all these important places, we would suggest the following:

Secretary of State, H. H. Holeman.

Secretary of Treasury, C. E. Morton.

Secretary of War, Mack Stevens.

Secretary of Navy, C. E. Owen.

Secretary of Agriculture, J. T. Scott.

Attorney-General, W. D. Orr.

Postmaster-General, A. K. Bradley.

Secretary of Interior, J. J. Glenn.

IT WAS A RALLY.

The Democrats in Ratifying the Election of Cleve and Steve Last Friday Night, Have a Jolly Good Time.

It was last Friday evening the Democrats of Earlington and vicinity rallied. It was done, too, in a businesslike manner. The most fastidious Republicans could not take exceptions to the way in which some things were done. Aside from yelling, which was purely Democratic, there was nothing to mar the pleasure or to harass the feelings of the defeated party. Taken as a whole, everybody enjoyed the affair immensely.

The decorations of the horses and riders deserve more than passing notice. The floats, too, attracted attention. Of the transparencies can be said, that in the lettering the artist with his brush adhered strictly to the Democratic alphabet. There was not a single sign made calculated to arouse laughter in the camp of the enemy. This was for their own amusement only. Many houses were handsomely illuminated—all these, by the way, were Democratic houses—as early as 10:30 o'clock, the rally was completed, and soon after all was quiet.

NOTES.

The Gardner-Cardwell bet was soon settled.

T. D. Walker was grand high chief of fest in the fray.

McGary and Stewart's fireworks kept the tail-end of the procession well lighted up.

Even Tom Pettit's "Separate coach with not a single negro in it," was a part of the parade.

Geo. Cardwell should be ruled out of the party. He left the ranks, a deserter, on the first round.

Col. Jones' speech was right out of the solid and was a good one, if anybody should ask you. Any thing-political was not "in it."

Pat Murray and his Empty Treasury, drawn by his pumpkin-colored steed were simply "out of sight." We suggest Pat be given a foreign appointment.

YES, INDEED.

For fine furniture go to B. F. Vannoy's, opposite Court House, Madisonville, Ky. He has everything new and stylish.

MADISONVILLE.

Capt. J. C. Bacon spent Sunday at home. Miss Olie Stowe returned home yesterday.

Dr. Frank Bell, of Dalton, was in town on Monday.

H. H. Holeman made a business trip to Evansville and Henderson yesterday.

J. H. Lonsford will proceed at once to build a new mill on the site of the one lately destroyed by fire.

L. L. Tapp seems very much at ease in his new business. He has push and energy and is sure he will succeed.

W. P. Scott editor of the Grit, and of late editor of the Central City Republican, spent Sunday with friends in this city.

Madam Rumor whispers there will be a wedding or a marriage soon. This is a surprise awaiting the young society people.

The new Court House is beginning to show its immensity. It will, however, be none too large for all necessary purposes.

The Court of Claims was in session two or three days last week. No business of importance outside the usual routine was transacted.

O. W. Waddill, our popular young Bank Cashier, wedded yesterday evening Miss Opal Willis, one of Hopkinsville's fairest daughters.

There are several wanting the place, but Hon. A. K. Bradley will likely be our next Postmaster. The term of the present incumbent expires in January, 1893.

The old blacksmith shop, formerly occupied by L. L. Tapp, west of the Opera block, is undergoing repairs. It has been treated to a new coat of weather boarding.

Burglars visited Prof. H. Boring last Friday night. Mr. Boring's cash was short next morning seventy-five cents. Money was evidently the only thing wanted as nothing else is reported missing.

Harry Scott, who was shot by the chief of police at Hopkinsville last Friday night while in that city participating in the Democratic rally, is recovering from wounds received, which were at first thought to be serious. The doctors now have hopes of a speedy recovery. The family expect the young man will be able to be brought home the last of this week.

Hopkins College and Training School closed its fall term Wednesday with an enrollment of 127 students in the different departments. The winter term begins November 29th. The prospects bid fair for an increased attendance. The attendance has been regular and the students seem zealous in their work. We have every reason to be proud of our school.

The rally which was put down for Saturday night last came off according to promise. Old and young participated. Ladies, too, some on horse back, others on floats, took a prominent part in the proceedings. No speeches were made, although some prominent speakers were expected. A large delegation from Henderson, Sebe, Earlington, and surrounding towns were on hand early. As many, if not more, played the part of spectators than joined in with the procession. Two brass bands rendered music in its sweetest strains. It was late when the streets were cleared and everybody at home or on their way.

FIRST CLASS

Parlor, sitting room, dining room, bedroom and kitchen furniture, including carpets of all grades, can be had at B. F. Vannoy's Madisonville, Ky.

ST. CHARLES.

Claud Fox was in town last Sunday.

Geo. Goldsworthy has returned from Alabama.

The St. Charles brass band is a much needed article. Why not make another effort?

A number of our I. O. G. T. folks went to White Plains last week to attend the District Lodge.

Q. The masquerade ball here last Saturday night was well attended from surrounding points, especially Haley.

Rev. Koe, of the Methodist church, delivered a strong talk on temperance last Sunday night at the Methodist church.

Pete Blain, son of Abe Blain, who lives near St. Charles, had his leg broken last Sunday while cutting a tree for grapes. Drs. Finley and Graham were called.

The Democratic ratification meeting on the 17th inst. was the event of the week. The night was dark and stormy, but the Democrats were nothing daunted and turned out in force to celebrate their recent victory. Proceeding began at the hall. The Earlington brass band did good work, but, oh! that rooster. Enthusiastic speeches were made by home orators, calling forth much applause and occasionally a crow from the assembled rooster. A line of march was then begun. The darkness was overcome by torch lights, and the hills echoed the shouts of triumphant Democracy. Sobriety, good behavior, and a marked respect for the feelings of the vanquished were noticeable features throughout the evening.

For Ladies' wraps J. T. Alexander's is the place to go. They are very stylish.

CROFTON.

Our little town is very quiet.

Elder T. H. Moore, of Madisonville, is in this vicinity this week.

H. M. Ashby, of White Plains, was in our county one day last week.

George Patterson, who has been sick with fever for the last month, is better.

M. G. Hicks is all smiles this week, for he has a new boarder at his house. "It's a gal."

Several of our farmers hauled tobacco these late rains to Madisonville and Morton's Gap.

Johnny, little son of Jas. Crick, is sick with fever this week. Dr. Hendrix is the attending physician.

Spears & Nelson exhibited their great Wonderland show at Atkinson's school house last Friday night.

Robert Searber has sold his farm for $1,000 to John Shaber, and will go to Florida to make it his future home.

Y. H. Crick, of this vicinity, has purchased a saw and grist mill, and will locate it in the neighborhood by the first of December.

Hardin Carroll and Bob Cooley took on too much bug juice last Friday in our town, and Hardin does up Bob in good style. The result is Judge Clark will assess a fine for the boy's conduct.

News has just reached us that White Plains was almost destroyed by fire last Saturday evening. The fire originated in Galloway's dwelling, and quickly spread to his store and then the flames became unmanageable. All the houses in reach were quickly ignited, including a blacksmith shop and Mr. Hardwick's dwelling. Mr. Galloway saved some of his stock of goods, but the losses are very heavy, as we learn they had no insurance.

Died, on November 18, George Parker, a highly respected citizen of this neighborhood, died of fever. He had suffered four long weeks, and was at last called to go. He was about 32 years old, and leaves a wife and his relations to mourn his death. His mortal remains were buried the following day at Rock Spring church, there to rest in peace till called up by a higher power. He was a member of the Christian church, and a kind and benevolent husband. Grieve not friends, for he is only waiting to be the first to greet you beyond the river of death.

Go to J. T. Alexander & Co.'s for first class goods and fair treatment.

For lame back there is nothing better than to saturate a flannel cloth with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind it on the affected parts. Try it and you will be surprised at the prompt relief it affords. The same treatment will cure rheumatism. For sale by St. Bernard drug store, Earlington; Ben T. Robinson, Morton's Gap, and Geo. King, St. Charles.

"Few men have more trouble in life than the man that keeps hens."

"There is one man has more trouble."

"Who is he?"

"The man that lives next door to him."

Yucatan Chili Tonic.

You take it, it does, the rest. It cures when all others fail. Adapted for old or young, rich or poor. Price 50c. Warrent at Robinson Bros'. Drug store.

A Grave Matter to Joke About.

"I should call death an excellent mimic."

"Why so?"

"Because it takes so many people off."

J. T. Alexander & Co.'s carpets are very cheap.

DRUNKENNESS.

Its Successful Treatment With Dr. Keely's Double Chloride of Gold

—The Only Cure—How it Was Discovered.

Dr. Leslie E. Keely's discovery of the Double Chloride of Gold cure for drunkenness is the greatest result of scientific medical investigation ever made known to the civilized world, and his name will be handed down through history as the greatest benefactor to mankind of this age.

Drunkenness is a disease found in the nervous system and is caused by repeated indulgence in alcoholic stimulants, and this is what first directed Dr. Keely's attention, satisfying him that there should be a cure for this most horrible disease of diseases, by medical treatment.

During his four years' service as army surgeon in the late civil war, men frequently came under his notice who, in spite of all they could do to avoid it, yet they would invariably get drunk at every opportunity which presented itself. Frequent and severe punishment would not stop them, for it seemed as though they had no power to control the appetite which mastered them. Filled with remorse during sober intervals, they made good resolutions which were broken at the first temptation to gratify their insatiable desire for intoxicants.

Dr. Keely's mind was deeply impressed with these facts, and he was led to consider the subject more thoroughly from a pathological point of view. At the close of the war he commenced experimenting with every promising medical agent at his command, hoping to find some remedy which would cure this all-prevailing disease, and remove all desire for intoxicants. His extensive experience proved to him that, in a majority of cases, excessive alcoholic drink was hereditary, transmitted from parent to child, very much the same as scrofulous evils are handed down through successive generations. Scientific investigation and research taught him that all diseases were overcome by judicious medical treatment, then why not drunkenness?

Nineteen years were spent by him in carefully examining the leading authorities, when he met with a quotation from a work by Paracelsus, written at the close of the fifteenth century, in which it was claimed that "Gold, the king of metals," was and would be found in the coming ages, a specific for all hereditary taint. Following this little ray of light which threaded its way down the sunlight of truth. His experiments were then made with the various salts of gold used in medicine, and, after countless efforts, sometimes doubting, often fearing failure, Dr. Keely at last discovered in the "Double Chloride of Gold," the remedy which he so long sought. And thus his great discovery was born. Since then his thousands of cures have been considered marvelous, especially when taking into consideration the fact that under proper restriction, he has allowed his patients when under "personal treatment," to drink as usual, effecting a cure in every instance, provided the remedy is taken implicitly according to directions.

Later investigation has also proven to Dr. Keely that the same agent, the Double Chloride of Gold, when specially prepared for that disease, is an absolute cure for the opium or morphine habit, neurasthenia and tobacco habit. Subsequent and repeated tests have demonstrated the value of this remedy of the above named habits and disease in thousands of cases.

It has been twelve years since Dr. Keely first successfully tested the efficacy of the Double Chloride of Gold in the cure of drunkenness. He was at that time serving in the capacity of surgeon for the Chicago & Alton railroad company, and while with that company he cured a number of his drunkenness at his own personal expense.

About seven years ago, after Dr. Keely had thoroughly tested the efficiency of the Double Chloride of Gold, and it had been pronounced beyond all doubt that he had in this "Golden Discovery" a sure and positive cure for drunkenness, he then established an Institute at Dwight, Ill., for the Sanitarium treatment of this great cure of cures to mankind. Since the establishment of this institution, he has caused to be established similar institutions in nearly all the important cities in the United States and several of these institutions have been established in some of the European cities. The records of these institutions show that nearly seventy thousand patients have been permanently cured of drunkenness within the past seven years.

The estimated percentage of those who fall back to their old habits after having taken the Keely cure, is it is more common, is about one out of every twenty-five, or nearly five per cent. And even those who resume their old habit of again indulging in alcoholic stimulants, do so through pure carelessness and for no other reason.

After a patient has a full course of treatment with the Double Chloride of Gold, he has no more desire for intoxicants than a person who never knew the taste of such.

We frequently hear of someone condemning Dr. Keely's treatment for drunkenness, by saying that it is dangerous; it will paralyze you; it will drive you mad, and many other such baseless false statements. It is true that those who profit by the liquor traffic, as well as those who oppose decency and the uplifting of mankind, they are the only ones who are crying. It will paralyze you! It is dangerous; a humbug and "unconstitutional."

Some newspapers have even degraded themselves so low as to give these villains of indecency and degradation a chance to voice through their columns such baseless and insignificant falsehoods.

We sometimes notice in some newspapers when some graduate of the Keely Institute, after having gone back to drinking, had committed suicide. Well, we will suppose these reports are true, but after having been thoroughly cured of drunkenness and knowing the former evils of such habit, and then if a man could and considerably goes back to it, the sooner he kills himself the better it is for all concerned.

Some Dr. Keely made known his wonderful discovery to the world, there has been several other so-called cures for drunkenness advertised in different parts of the country, claiming to be equal or superior to Dr. Keely's Double Chloride of Gold, but a person has only to test them to prove that they are humbugs. And some of the proprietors of these nostrums have even been at the bottom of some of the damaging statements against Dr. Keely.

Dr. Keely has never expended any money in advertising his wonderful discovery. He knows that it will advertise itself by its miraculous cures, yet the Chicago Tribune and many other leading papers have voluntarily published lengthy articles on his Golden Discovery.

In conclusion, I will say to all persons who have an uncontrollable desire for intoxicants, that at they will find a sure and positive cure in Dr. Leslie E. Keely's Double Chloride of Gold for drunkenness.

And that after taking a full course of treatment, they will find their system almost regenerated and they will find themselves in possession of a new lease on life, filled with new hopes and higher and brighter aims in this life. The money you spend in taking this treatment you will find that in a very short space of time, will yield you a handsome dividend. Last, but not least, you can then realize what it is to be freed from the bondage which have held you, and to rise up and stand among your peers and discharge the duties of this life for which you were created to perform.

Yours, very respectfully,

LESLIE E. KEELY, A GRADUATE.

MINING BEES.

The first society of civil engineers was formed in London in 1793.

There are over seventy miles of tunnels cut in the solid rock of Gibraltar.

In Saxony they have mining schools, the first of which was founded in 1500.

Germans are said to be the first nation to use gun powder for blasting rock.

In the Lackawanna coal mines the average monthly boring is over 3,000 feet.

Empire Coal Company are so rushed with orders as to be unable to fill them.

The question is, where was Jake when that procession passed by last Thursday night?

Quite a number of the St. Bernard force was called to St. Charles last week on business.

Mr. Cal Morgan has again joined the crew that digs the dusty diamonds from the earth.

Learned men say that the invention of the diamond drill has revolutionized the art of mining.

The Comstock mines are so deep that no means has been devised to overcome the excessive heat.

By the light of tar balls the Democratic miners of St. Charles celebrated last Thursday night in great shape.

D. W. Winstead is of the opinion that he will be unable to recover the drill lately lost in the test well at the park.

The numerous mines now in operation has caused quite a competition to spring up, and the result is some cuts in prices.

Ross laugh was on the invalid list for a day or two last week on account of a rising on his arm, necessitating a surgical operation.

It is estimated that by improper methods in the Pennsylvania mines, 30 to 40 per cent. of the Anthracite coal was found to be a loss.

The demand for coke cars is now heavy, which indicates an increased demand for coke which is certainly growing more popular as a fuel.

Several would-be cowboys gave several of our boys who attended the celebration at Madisonville Saturday night a scare by a too careless use of firearms.

Weighter John Hogan is now said to take great interest in the study of civil service rules, and thinks since Cleveland's election there may be an opening for him.

A few years back, just such scenes as those described below could be witnessed here, and now peace reigns supreme since selling liquor is one of the things of the past.

There is said to be a mine in operation in this county where the working crew consist of three men, and the horses number four. Business certainly boometh in that mine.

Our miners who favor free coal, turned out in force last Friday night here, and when a reduction of wages come from that cause, who can be found to sympathize with them.

Philadelphians are now badly stirred up over the finding of a gang of coke thieves who have been at work for years, causing a loss of thousands of dollars to coke holders of that city.

One of our colored miners knocked himself out of a job last week by becoming boisterous, and while in a passion, wielded a piece of iron with such force as to inflict a severe wound in a brother miner's head, after which he left for parts unknown, and will probably hunt other fields of labor.

Zanesville, O., Nov. 15.—Word was received last night of a terrible fight at St. Clairsville Junction, a small mining town four miles west of Belleaire. Twenty miners employed at Troll Bros' mines indulged deeply in intoxicants. On returning to St. Clairsville Junction a political discussion precipitated a drunken brawl, in which a miner named Veitina was killed, and another miner named Elstaker was fatally injured. Knives, stones and clubs were used as weapons in the melee and several of the participants received injuries which are serious. Fifteen of those engaged in the fight were arrested, but those who inflicted the blows which were fatal escaped.

Cheap Engineers and Expensive Lawyers.—We frequently receive very decided expressions of opinion from those whose experience enables them the best judge against the old-fashioned, short-sighted, penny-wise and pound-foolish policy of employing the cheapest possible service in engaging professional engineers, when it comes
